

Good afternoon Chairman Reynolds, Majority and Minority Leaders Gene LaBare and Jerry Marinich, lawmakers, department heads, members of the media and the wonderful people of Broome County.

A year ago I stood here and told you we were facing some difficult and uncertain times. If only “difficult” and “uncertain” were all we had to face. Unfortunately it was much worse than that. In addition to our national and regional economic struggles, our own Broome County Government was challenged by the evacuation and closure for weeks of this office building and our community was devastated by one of the most horrific acts of violence. The American Civic Association shooting claimed the lives of 13 innocent victims and also injured four others..

I said last year that while our struggles had diminished our spirit, our spirits were not broken. I stand here tonight to say that while our strength and our determination have been tested to the limit by the events of the past year, our faith and our fortitude are stronger than ever and our spirit once again is not broken.

As many have stated in the wake of these terrible tragedies, it is not the events that will characterize us, it is how we responded and how we recover that will tell our story. And again I think our story will be one of resilience and strength in the face of adversity.

At the end of tonight’s speech I would like to take some time to recognize the many county employees who never thought of themselves first or worried about how much time and effort they were expending in their efforts to help the victims of the ACA tragedy. They made us all proud and they continue to make us proud in their daily efforts to help this community heal and make it a better place for all of us to live.

Before we honor those individuals, however, we must once again face the facts of our financial situation.

Our economic struggles continue to plague us but together we have worked to minimize the impacts. We are not in recovery mode yet but daily we are addressing the many financial changes at our doorstep. I get asked what our “contingency plan” is. My response is that we do not have a contingency plan we have a “continual plan”!

Since taking office, steps have been taken to reduce expenses across the board. We have cut and trimmed and sliced and gouged pretty much every expense line in the county budget. Of course we have done this on every expense over which we have control. Mandated expenses remain out of our reach. We unfortunately are now down to looking at personnel. We cannot cut around employees anymore.

Last year we began the effort to reduce headcount first with the 2010 budget process and then with a retirement incentive program. In the 2010 budget, we reduced the number of full-time equivalents by 24. Then with the retirement incentive, we eliminated an additional 50 positions for a total of 74 fewer people on the payroll in 2010.

We are not done. We continue to meet with department heads to encourage them to come up with their own reorganization plans to assist us with cutting costs. We believe they understand best how their departments work and when push comes to shove where potential personnel cuts can be made.

If they do not present a plan, we are sometimes forced to do it for them. And as this body witnessed last year, this is not the best approach for anyone involved.

Through our negotiation process, which we are smack dab in the middle of, we are trying to work with our unions to get them to understand the dire financial circumstances we are facing. Some get it, some do not. The numbers are pretty clear and we will get to some of those numbers in a minute.

We cannot continue with the status quo. I have heard that some of our union members would rather we lose workers so that they can personally get more. Is that really good for county government? Is it good for the services we provide? Is it good for the community as a whole? Fewer workers mean fewer services, fewer QUALITY services, and a reduced quality of life.

That is not a future I want to see for my community and I ask that we continue to work together in shared sacrifice for the good of all of those who live in this beautiful valley.

I wanted to recognize a few department heads who I feel deserve special recognition because they have been extraordinary with their ideas and creative solutions.

I wanted to acknowledge DSS and Mental Health Commissioner Art Johnson for the work he has done to meet the challenge presented him following the loss of 17 employees to the retirement incentive.

Commissioner Johnson was able to come up with a creative solution to provide services to some of the most vulnerable in our community by partnering with the Children's Home and Catholic Charities. By doing this, Art was able to maintain the level of staff and the integrity necessary to provide the programs and services that still remain with DSS. He accomplished this all without a single layoff.

I would also like to acknowledge Lisa Wise at the library. Lisa and her employees, we know, have taken a pretty big hit staff wise and they are making it work to the best of their ability.

They and all of our departments are to be commended for their continued commitment to providing public services with fewer resources...and usually always, still with a smile!

I did want to point out as well that these cutbacks are being felt by all departments across the board, including my own. We have reduced our staff by one position and at the same time we have taken on additional responsibility. As many of you know, Leigh Ann Scheider has moved to the Health Department to advance her desire to pursue a career in healthcare.

Her previous Executive Assistant responsibilities of taking care of the web page, handling media releases, media inquiries, news conferences, newsletters and other internal and external communications as well as that position's other administrative duties are now being distributed among the rest of my staff, a staff already pretty overburdened with responsibility.

We are taking on additional responsibilities as they relate to the Youth Bureau. As you know, two positions in that department were lost due to budget constraints and so we absorbed the Director into our office to be able to provide the necessary administrative support. Again we are all doing more with less and I do not see anything in our immediate future that indicates this will change any time soon.

Right now I would like to provide a snapshot of our 2009 and early 2010 financial situation.

- Sales tax revenues were down nearly 5%, 2009 over 2008.
- That represents a reduction of $3.4 million dollars in revenue coming into our community year to year.
- At the same time, our year to year costs for mandated programs rose nearly 10% or around $8 million dollars which if addressed as a stand alone item, without this administration mitigating those impacts, would increase property taxes nearly 14%. As I have told my staff and many of you in this room, I will throw myself in front of a BC Transit bus before I do that.
- Healthcare costs are increasing 3.7%.
- Our pension costs are increasing nearly 50%.
- Our caseload for temporary assistance at DSS has increased 45%!

- Our unemployment rate in the community is wavering between 8 and 10%.
- More properties are facing foreclosure by banks.
- More people are losing their homes and properties because they cannot pay their taxes.
- And our state's financial outlook isn't any more encouraging with estimates from the governor's office targeting a $7 to $8 billion dollar deficit this year alone.

This list could go on but I think the picture is clear. These are extraordinary times and they call for extraordinary measures.

We are prepared as an administration to take drastic steps to mitigate these problems but we need this legislature's support moving forward. We also need our residents to understand that there will be an impact on services. We will try to make cuts in areas that have the least impact on direct services but that is not always possible.

There are a few signs of hope on the horizon. Our sales tax losses have leveled off. We even saw some reporting periods in 2009 that showed growth year to year. Not a lot, but growth nonetheless.

Our federal government under pressure from Senators like our own Chuck Schumer has provided tremendous direct relief in the form of FMAP funding.

In 2009 we received $6.7 million. In 2010, we expect to receive $6.2 million. And while this is still being finalized in Washington, it appears FMAP funding will be continued into 2011. It is proposed in the President's budget that FMAP will be extended for counties in the first six months of 2011. That represents an additional $3.5 million for Broome County in 2011 that we initially did not anticipate.

Again these are tremendous monetary boosts but they are not the final answer to our financial woes. We are tremendously grateful to our federal government for this kind of relief but we are also working to make sure, that going forward, this type of federal relief will not mean the difference in our making or breaking our budget.

And while there are still many troubling economic signs in our community, there are also reasons for hope. In addition to the FMAP relief, there are also true success stories that happened in 2009.

While we had bad news from Lockheed Martin and BAE, we also had exciting news from two other companies.

Emerson Network Power Solutions cut the ribbon on its new multi-million dollar headquarters in the Charles St. Business Park. It is now operating with more than 50 employees at the site of the former GAF and Anitec plants in the city's first ward.

What a transformation this highly visible property has experienced! We look forward to great things to come from Emerson as well as other companies looking to locate inside the Charles St. Park.

While Emerson cut a ribbon, Impress officials broke ground on their new manufacturing plant in the Broome Corporate Park in Conklin.

Impress, a multi national company, is making a $35 to $40 million dollar investment as well as expecting to hire 75 to 100 people when they are fully operational. This was a huge win for our community and we should all be proud that they chose Broome County, New York over somewhere else.

Our Greater Binghamton Innovation Center celebrated its first year of operation by graduating its first tenant, and reaching 100% occupancy. The tenant, White Knight Imaging, began in one of our small four hundred square foot office spaces inside the incubator with a husband and wife team at the helm. They now have two full time employees and have moved into larger space in the community. This is what the incubator is all about, helping companies get started and flourish. We expect to report back more success stories in the future.

White Knight moved out and Sonostics Inc. moved in. Sonostics is a start-up business that has its origins in Binghamton University's bioengineering department.

The company has created technology that measures muscle strength. We are excited to have our incubator play host to such a cutting edge, high tech company. It is a perfect example of helping technology transfer from Binghamton University into our very own community.

STEP, the Southern Tier Economic Partnership has been fully formed. It is the evolution of the Greater Binghamton Coalition. STEP will be partnering with the Broome County IDA, our number one economic development agency, to become the one stop economic development office this community so desperately needs.

There is an agreement that STEP, the IDA and the Greater Binghamton Chamber of Commerce will locate together in the community and provide our local businesses and business interests from outside the area, a singular focal point for business development assistance.

Other notable project updates from 2009.

- George Harvey is open and occupied. I want to thank Gerald Mollen, Lori Wilmot and Jay Wilber for helping us make this a smooth transition. I especially want to thank Stephen Elko for managing the project and keeping us on track and on budget and recognition also to outgoing Planning Commissioner Rita Petkash for managing the move. It was not easy but it is done and the building is beautiful!
- I wanted to take a quick moment to recognize Rita for all of her work in the Planning Department. Rita has officially retired and I just want to thank her for her years of service to my administration and to all of the administrations she has served. We will miss her!
- Rita is still working with us for a few more months. She has one more project to wrap up before we officially let her go! The Intermodal.
- Our Intermodal is set to open this summer, providing a beautiful facility for most of this area's public transportation needs while delivering a much needed facelift for a large section of our urban core.
- I would like to take this opportunity to once again thank Congressman Maurice Hinchey for securing $10 million dollars for this transportation center. Without his support at the beginning, middle and end of this project, it would never have come to fruition.
- For years we have talked about the need to give this facility a proper name. Tonight that is just what we are going to do. The overall Intermodal operation will be called the Greater Binghamton Transportation Center. However, we would like to honor our Congressman for all that he has done by naming the building Congressman Hinchey's Hub!
- We are looking forward to that ribbon cutting in the very near future and we hope the Congressman will be able to join us in person!
- Our Greater Binghamton Modeling and Simulation Coalition has added several partners and now counts 10 companies as well as Binghamton University and BCC as members. It has also garnered national recognition including the attention of Congressman Maurice Hinchey. His key position on the defense appropriations committee has already provided tremendous support for local companies and can only bode well for our defense related companies in the future including those in our coalition.

- BCC has a new president and is set to begin construction on a new science building.

The BCC update is probably one of the most gratifying. Broome Community College is one of our brightest stars in terms of reputation, excellence and the quality of its faculty, staff and students.

It too has been through a very difficult year. Many in the community, including some legislators, were critical of the time and yes, the money that was spent to conduct a search. On a choice such as this, you cannot settle. You should not settle. We did not and the results are beyond our expectations.

With the hiring of a new President, Dr. Kevin Drumm, with his extraordinary credentials and track record of success, I am so excited about the school's future and our community's future.

I was in Albany last week and had a chance to chat with the new SUNY Chancellor Dr. Nancy Zimpher who took it upon herself to tell me that quote, "...we got ourselves a good one!" and "...we were very fortunate!"

After meeting Dr. Drumm and listening to the feedback from trustees, members of the community and college representatives, I agree, we got ourselves a good one!

I am delighted to introduce to all in attendance tonight, our new BCC president Dr. Kevin Drumm.

We welcome you and look forward to working with you on the challenges facing the school including contract negotiations, housing for students and construction of the new science building.

Dr. Drumm has also expressed, like no other president in the past, an understanding of the important role a community college can and does play in a community's economic success. He understands that relationship and again we look forward to working with him to capitalize on the college's strengths to help us build a stronger workforce and overall economy.

In other attempts to strengthen our area's economic prospects, my administration has invested quite a bit of time and energy in 2009 researching the natural gas industry and helping to prepare our community for the natural gas development that is most certainly in our future.

Additionally, our efforts to secure additional revenue for our taxpayers have been unsurpassed by any other county. Why? Because I believe this could be the tremendous economic boost this community has been waiting for, for decades.

I have stated from the beginning that the development of the Marcellus Shale can be done in Broome County and other places in New York, to help spur much needed economic growth and it can be done while still protecting the environment.

It has been and always will be my contention that the two efforts; building this new industry and protecting our environment, are not, I repeat not, mutually exclusive.

We have been outspoken about our beliefs and we will continue to work with all municipal leaders, all landowners, business owners and the gas companies themselves to make sure this industry gets off the ground in New York State and we will also work to make sure it will be regulated and overseen judiciously.

Some of the steps we have taken to date on this issue include:

- We have developed requests for proposals for county owned properties to capitalize on our land assets and try to bring direct tax relief to our taxpayers.
- We have met with numerous gas companies to help them understand how our community is ready, willing and able to assist them when they are allowed to drill.
- We have worked with landowner groups on helping them to get their message out as clearly and as loudly as those who would not like to see this industry set up shop in New York at all.
- We have created a gas resources page on our website to keep our residents abreast of all new developments.

- We have taken advantage of every opportunity provided us to voice our concerns to state elected leaders as well as state agencies and we have taken our advocacy to the governor and his staff directly.
- We are working on local laws in coordination with municipal officials to make sure we build in protections for our air, roads and general quality of life.
- We have traveled to Texas to see first hand the experiences that have resulted from natural gas development in the Barnett Shale.
- We commissioned an economic impact statement to determine the potential economic benefits of this new industry in our region and the numbers are staggering.
- We have attended the NAPE Expo in Houston, the world's largest conference for natural gas leasing opportunities

Of course, many of our employees have already been working on various natural gas issues, including economic development, protection of our infrastructure, water quality, inter-municipal cooperation, emergency response, etc.

I have decided to combine the efforts of these various individuals into a special Broome County "Natural Gas Development Team." Although the work and issues will not change, I hope to create a better information flow internally and with the public. Reports of the committee's efforts will be posted on a regular basis on our natural gas web page.

We are very fortunate to have a former NYS DEC official on the legislature. Mario Nirchi has agreed to join this new committee along with other county department representatives.

I think you understand our position. Developing the Marcellus Shale is crucial to our economic future and protecting our environment is also crucial. Again these two goals are not mutually exclusive.

I think I can safely say that 2009 is a year we will never forget even though the events of last year have many wishing that the year could be wiped from our collective memory banks.

In 2009 we began to deal with the devastating consequences the economy laid at our doorstep. We were also forced to face a construction accident and resulting evacuation that cost the county over a million dollars to remediate. We are still involved in 3 separate lawsuits. We are suing the state, the contractor for the job and our insurance company. It has been our contention from the beginning that this accident was not our fault and should not be our financial responsibility.

While both of these events were bad enough, our community also found itself in the national spotlight for one of the most senseless and horrific acts of violence.

13 lives were lost on April 3rd when a madman attacked innocent victims at the American Civic Association. These victims were either immigrants simply trying to find a better life in America or they were teachers working with those immigrants to help them achieve the American dream.

To even try to make sense of this extraordinary tragedy is an exercise in futility. Many families lost loved ones and friends on that day and our entire community suffered a wound so deep that it will take years to recover.

While the events of that day are difficult to recount, I did not want 2009 to fade away without taking a moment to acknowledge all of the heroes of that day and there were many.

Many of those heroes work for our county government and exemplified what it means to be a public servant providing important response, relief, support, comfort and care.

The City of Binghamton police, fire and other personnel were certainly on the front lines of this disaster as it unfolded but our county resources were not far behind.

I would like Brett Chellis, Sheriff Harder, Jim Dadamio, Art Johnson, Katie Cusano, Kim McKinney, Claudia Edwards and George Bagnetto to stand and be recognized.

Brett your 911 dispatchers and emergency services personnel were well trained, well prepared and so professional from the moment the events of April 3rd began to unfold. We have heard so many times how your dispatchers provided the victims and the emergency services personnel an all important lifeline. You provided valuable information while at the same time provided comfort to the victims. Brett, Mike, Ray and the entire staff deserve our thanks and our respect for all that you do, day in and day out, and especially for what you accomplished on this very difficult day.

Sheriff Harder and his department were some of the first on the scene providing much needed backup to the Binghamton Police Department. Your support and cooperation, in the midst of this very complicated crime scene, I am told provided important assistance to those on the ground at the ACA. Thank you for your continued professionalism.

Jim Dadamio's staff was instrumental in locking down and protecting county employees in nearby buildings. And your Security Officer's efforts to provide valuable information were extremely helpful in marshaling resources.

Kim McKinney and her IT staff were key in setting up communications within hours of this tragedy. Extraordinary work by an extraordinary group of professionals!

Claudia Edwards directed her staff to assist in the wake of the tragedy and provided her building for a phone bank that turned out to be a valuable communication tool for what would become an international event. Claudia, your staff spent hours on the phone providing important information to devastated family members calling from all over the world. For your constant professionalism in times of emergencies we thank you.

Art Johnson led our county efforts on the human services side of this terrible tragedy. That effort required immediate response by dozens of caring county mental health workers and DSS staff. Because of the leadership roles taken on by Art, Katie Cusano and the staff at the Mental Health Offices, Broome County was able to provide important mental health services to victims directly involved in the ACA shootings within hours of the event. There was also long term comfort and care provided for weeks and months in the wake of the shooting.

George Bagnetto and BC Transit were once again able to provide a key service at a crucial time. Whenever they have been called in, whether it has been the floods of 2006, or the ACA shooting of last year, they are always there to provide important transportation services.

There were so many more county employees involved in assisting the community during this event including many from my office. I apologize if I have left anyone off of the list by name but please know, we as a community are grateful. We are proud to call ourselves public servants when we know that we have folks like you in our ranks.

It is this kind of example set by these individuals that I hope we can all follow in the weeks and months to come.

We have tremendous challenges still in our path but if we work together and put aside the thoughts of ourselves and/or our own geography and begin making decisions for the greater good of the entire county and the entire region, I feel strongly that we will get beyond our current struggles.

As always, I look forward to working with you to tackle our shared problems as well as celebrating our shared successes.

Thank you!

BINGHAMTON METROPOLITAN TRANSPORTATION STUDY (BMTS)

Accomplishments:

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act:

- Candidate projects were solicited from all local governments, screened for eligibility, and ranked. After a number of iterations, the BMTS Policy Committee adopted a final list of nine projects to be funded under ARRA:
 - Broome County: Bridge painting, Vestal-Endicott bridge
 - Broome County: Paving, Vestal Road, African Road to Jensen Road

- Broome County: Bus replacement, purchase 6 hybrid coaches for BC Transit
- Tioga County: Bridge rehabilitation, Southside Drive over Pumpelly Creek
- City of Binghamton: Paving, Main Street, Front Street to city line
- Village of Johnson City: Bridge repairs, Arch Street over Norfolk Southern Railroad
- Village of Endicott: Paving, Vestal Avenue, Main Street to bridge
- Town of Vestal: Bridge replacement, Mason Road over Tracy Creek
- Town of Kirkwood: Bridge/culvert replacement, Barlow Road over Acre Creek

By the end of 2009, all projects had been bid. Main Street and Arch Street bridge are completed. The remaining projects will be under construction in the 2010 construction season.

Broome-Tioga Greenride:

- With the approval of the BMTS Policy Committee, a decision was made to support the development of a ridesharing website. The firm of Ecology & Environment, Inc of Lancaster NY was selected on the basis of an RFP. Their Greenride software, a map-based system for matching prospective carpoolers, was customized for Broome-Tioga Greenride. It went live in the spring. By the end of the year nearly 200 people had registered. BMTS staff initiated outreach to local employers in the fall. Lourdes Hospital and United

Health Services will go live with employer-based portals to Greenride in January 2010.

BC Transit ~ Off-Campus College Transport Consolidation Study:

- There is substantial duplication of service between BC Transit and OCC-T. The study is examining both operational and financial consequences of a potential consolidation. The result could mean increased state aid to Broome County for BC Transit, more frequent service on certain routes at peak times, and reduction in capital expenditures by Binghamton University. Final results and recommendations will be available early in 2010.

BC Transit On-Board Survey:

- BMTS worked with the Binghamton University College of Community and Public Affairs to administer and analyze an on-board survey of BC Transit riders at no cost to BMTS or Broome County. This survey is conducted to provide data to the Department of Public Transportation, including demographics (who is riding the bus), usage (trip purpose, frequency of use), and opinions of service. The Commissioner of Public Transportation and his staff find this information useful in understanding their riders and improving their service.

Bus Stop Accessibility:

- Through the work of a college intern, BMTS completed a survey of all BC Transit bus stops to determine which are not accessible to individuals with mobility impairments, because of the absence of sidewalks, or a concrete pad onto which the bus driver can deploy the wheelchair lift or ramp. The Department of Public Transportation can use this information when reviewing applications for BC Lift under the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Traffic Safety Partnerships:

- BMTS has ex-officio seats on a number of committees as a consequence of our traffic engineering expertise. These include the Broome County Traffic Safety Board, the City of Binghamton Traffic Board, and the NYSDOT Region 9 Site Impact Review Committee. In each case, these partnerships are designed to improve the safety of the travelling public.

Public Health:

- BMTS continues to partner with the Broome County Health Department in the Steps to a Healthier NY program. One of the focus areas of the program is physical activity and the contribution it can make to overall health. People are more likely to walk or bike to their destination when the transportation infrastructure provides a safe and convenient way to do so. In addition to promoting the construction of sidewalks and provision of bicycle facilities, BMTS works with local school districts through the Safe Routes to School program. By creating a safe, and sometimes parent supervised route, children can be encouraged to walk or bike.

Professional Development:

- John Sterbentz, Transportation Analyst, and Scott Reigle, Senior Transportation Planner, both achieved Professional Transportation Planner certification. This national credential is awarded based on professional experience and successful completion of a written examination. It certifies a high level of professional knowledge and capability.
- Steven Gayle, PTP, Executive Director, was elected to a three year term as Vice Chair of the Transportation Professional Certification Board. This Board oversees and administers national certification programs in traffic engineering and transportation planning.
- Steven Gayle was selected by his peers as Chair of the New York State Metropolitan Planning Organizations (www.nysmpos.org). This association represents the 13 MPOs in New York, ranging from the country's largest, the New York Metropolitan Transportation Council, to among the smallest, the Ithaca-Tompkins County Transportation Council.

BROOME/ TIOGA WORKFORCE

Accomplishments:

- Over the past year, more than sixteen businesses experienced plant closings or mass layoffs affecting more than 2000 workers in the Broome Tioga region. The Broome Tioga Workforce NY and the Regional Rapid Response partners conducted orientations to all employees. Affected workers were provided services onsite or through the One-Stop Career Centers. Two job fairs were convened for the Lockheed Martin and BAE employees. The Lockheed Martin Owego recruitment had 26 businesses and 300 employees attending. The BAE Targeted recruitment included 15 businesses with 200 employees attending. Some companies conducted interviews on site and other interviews were scheduled shortly after the event.

- Broome Tioga Workforce NY was awarded a Reemployment Eligibility and Assessment (REA) Project bringing five additional Labor Services Representatives to the Broome Workforce Center.
- $30,000 was awarded in 13-N Regional Transformation funding to Binghamton University to provide the "Go Green Institute" to middle school students during the summer break and to Broome Community College to provide training to the local and regional incumbent workforce.
- Commissioner M. Patricia Smith promoted New York State's On-The-Job Training program at the Computer Emergency Room in September 2009. Jamie Hess, owner of the Computer Emergency Room stated that thirteen employees had been hired and trained through the OJT program with 100% completion. The total benefit of the program was $35,000 in OJT reimbursement wages.

- Broome Tioga Workforce hosted more than thirty recruitments during the year with more than ten businesses participating.
- Groundbreaking ceremony was held for Impress USA on September 18th, 2009. Broome Tioga Workforce funded six Impress OJT contracts.
- PB Industries, Broome-Tioga BOCES and Broome Workforce NY developed a new curriculum for Intermediate and Advanced Welders.
- The newly formed Professional Networking Group attracted over 80 recently unemployed engineers and others professionals to share information on job leads and learn about local employment resources

CASA

Accomplishments:

- NY Connects. This designation allows us to support efforts to educate the community on how to access long term care. In 2009 we created the “Share Your Wisdom” initiative in partnership with Action for Older Persons. This program educates seniors who act as peer leaders to assist others in accessing information on long term care.
- With grant money from NY Connects, we created two education tools this year: My Little Book...A Health Diary and a book mark: A, B, C’s of long term care. A = Action for Older Persons; B = Broome County Office for Aging and C = CASA.

- My Little Book was piloted and revised. One of the CASA nurses works with consumers to assist them in setting up the book; entering their meds and diagnosis and advising them on how to use it.

Goals:

- Expand the “Know the ABC’s of Broome County Senior Services” campaign.
- Partner with other community agencies and health care organizations to expand the usage of the My Little Book.
- Our top priority is always to operate the Medicaid home care programs that we authorize services for in the most cost efficient/quality manner. What follows is a comparison of Medicaid per person expenditures for 2007 for people receiving personal care from similar sized counties. You will note that Broome serves more people at a lower cost than other like sized counties.

CENTRAL FOODS

Accomplishments:

- Broome County Central Foods has taken measures over the last year and into 2010 to save the taxpayers money after some brain storming with staff at Willow Point Nursing Facility.
- In 2009 Willow Point was producing sandwiches on the self select menus and wasting several at the end of the day. They currently make 25 less sandwiches per day for a savings of approx. $3,000.

- Juice was served at every meal at a cost of $.13/juice. At dinner they now allow the residents to ask for their juice instead of receiving it whether they want it or not. Instead of serving 340 juices at dinner they now serve only approx 80-100. This comes out to about an $11,000/yr savings.
- For years we have purchased food/liquid thickener in 12/8 oz cans. We found this is available in bulk now. This savings based on what we think we will use will be approx. $11,500/yr. There was some retraining necessary for the staff that deals with this and instructions are now posted to help with the change. We also had to purchase some disposable 1 qt containers w/lids to store the thickener in since it is now in bulk, this cost is calculated into the savings. This was a requirement of the state that they be disposable.
- Willow Point was also giving 24 oz of whole milk to each resident and in 2009 they cut that down to 16 oz. This still meets the dietary needs of those patients for rehydration. Each container of milk costs around $.19 each for 340 residents 365 days is a savings of $23,000.
- For med passes nursing was using the individual cups of pudding that cost $.48 each. The kitchen now dishes up the amount of pudding needed per floor and wing at a cost $.23 each. Plus the extra half can that they didn't use in the allowed time frame is no longer tossed away. We think this measure will save $750/yr.
- Total Savings for Willow Point: $49,250
- Office for the Aging came up with an idea that we decided was worth looking in to. They suggested we switch to stainless steel pans instead of the disposable aluminum pans we currently use that cost $.73/each. We are thinking that we will save at least 20 pans per day or $14.60 in money and un-necessary waste in our landfill which seemed like a great idea. This savings to the taxpayer for the pans alone will be approx. $3,700/yr.
- We also have switched to bulk items for things like Oatmeal, Cream of Wheat and Mashed Potatoes. Our initial investment was around $800 for the bulk storage containers but the overall savings for a year will be approx. $14,500/yr.
- All of these are only estimated savings. We really won't know the true impact until we are at least half way through the year. We will continue to search for new and green ways to save our taxpayers money will into the future.

COUNTY CLERK

Accomplishments:

- Saw an increased number of e-filed documents

- Move to JC and back to COB (during building closure) resulted in virtually no down time or inconvenience to our customers

Goals:

- Continue to promote the reduction in the volume of paper records maintained by County Departments while providing each department with efficient retrieval and safe retention of their valuable documents. To that end, we are beginning with our own County Clerk/Court records and taking the necessary steps to begin disposing of the paper records and maintaining the digital record as the “record” copy. Staff will travel to nearby Counties that are already disposing of these records to see their procedures and policies.
- The Records Manager has been appointed to the Regional Advisory Committee to review and recommend the most efficient and effective methods to store our records, i.e. in paper, electronically, or on microfilm. Working together with other records professionals throughout NYS, we put together an Electronic Document Management Symposium which provided needed information to over 110 representatives from various counties, towns and school districts throughout our Region as they move into electronic record keeping to some degree.
- Continue scanning of Civil Actions and criminal files to make available on-line
- Continue off-site Passport Fairs

During 2009 these prosecutors conducted 43 felony trials in Broome County Court.
- Perhaps one of the most significant trials resulted in the murder conviction of the man responsible for intentionally killing Terry Dittman in 1997, culminating a 12 year old investigation.
- Regarding important policy issues being confronted by the criminal justice system, because of the District Attorney’s leadership role in initiating model policies regarding videotaping of suspect interviews in major cases and in implementing guidelines for conducting identification procedures, the District Attorney was asked to testify before the Wrongful Convictions Committee of the New York State Bar Association to discuss those procedures.

- The Office of the District Attorney returned to its roots – moving its entire operation from the Press Building to the beautifully renovated George Harvey Justice Building, thus providing secure, well-designed work space to its employees and to the citizens of Broome County.

BCPL is now a true Central Library in the first full year of implementation, seamlessly sharing library materials. That means a BCPL library card holder is able to go online from home and request a Sidney Public Library book to be sent to BCPL for pick up. With the high cost of gasoline, this becomes most cost effective to library users in being able to easily shift materials within 4,000 square miles of Broome, Chenango, Delaware and Otsego Counties.

MENTAL HEALTH

Accomplishments:

- Mental Health Commissioner, Art Johnson, provided leadership in the County's Human Service response to the American Civic Association tragedy. A Family Assistance Center (FAC) was set up shortly after the tragedy occurred. The FAC was moved several times until its permanent location was established at the Broome County Health Department. The FAC was staffed in the early days by Crime Victim's Assistance Center Staff, Red Cross mental health counselors, an attorney from the NYS Bar Association's Disaster Response Team, FBI immigration experts, and the NYS Crime Victim's Board. Broome Security provided security to the victims accessing the center.
- Daily conference calls were scheduled for the Human Service Response facilitated at the Broome County Emergency Services Office. These calls included staff from the NYS Emergency Management Office (SEMO) and many other state agencies and local government and non-profit agencies that provided support to our response.
- Commissioner Johnson Co-Chaired a Human Service Community Task Force that came together to assist victims, survivors, and the community at large in the recovery process. The Task Force consisted of government and non-profit agency representatives. This Task Force was broken into several workgroups including:

- The Family Assistance Center/Victims & Survivors Needs
 - Children and Adolescents
 - Translators and Cultural Competency
 - Fund Raising
- The day of the incident the Mental Health Department deployed its clinical staff to assist with crisis counseling at the emergency assistance center set up at Catholic Charities. Deputy Commissioner Katie Cusano and our Clinic Director Abby Mack were deployed to the Phone Center. Katie helped to manage the 24/7 call center (as well as many other critical administrative functions) for several weeks. The Mental Health Department assisted with this effort throughout the year in various ways.
 - Following the tragic events at the American Civic Association on April 3, 2009 Broome County applied for and was granted funding in the amount of $100,000 from the NYS Office of Children & Family Services. This funding was made available by NYS Senator Malcolm Smith. The funding was awarded to the Crime Victims Assistance Center so they could provide services such as counseling, legal assistance and other needs due to this devastating tragedy. The grant period runs from April 3, 2009 through April 2, 2010. Deputy Commissioner Cusano completed the grant application.

- The County received an additional $34,621 in 2009 from the NYS Office of Mental Health (OMH) for COLAs for OMH funded programs.
- In January Broome County received an additional $5,897 from the NYS Office of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities for a COLA.
- In September Broome County received a NYS OASAS grant of $37,840 and entered into a contract with United Health Services (UHS) for OASAS Offsite Services. These services are located in a primary care clinic in Endicott.
- In December NYS Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services (OASAS) awarded the Department one-time-only funding for Fairview Recovery Services for their Halfway House. The amount of the award was $41,276.
- In 2009 an updated Medicaid Compliance Plan was developed by Commissioner Johnson, Katie Cusano, Omarr Evans, Rose Murphy, Abby Mack, Jennifer Lee, and Tena Baxter, to meet the new Medicaid compliance requirements of the NYS Office of the Medicaid Inspector General (OMIG). The Plan was subsequently reviewed by Aaron Marcus, Deputy County Attorney. The plan was approved with an effective date of October 30, 2009 and was certified with the NYS OMIG on December 4, 2009.
- Effective October 1, 2009 the Mental Health Department was awarded $100,000 from the NYS Division of Criminal Justice Services. The Department is contracting with the Southern Tier AIDS Program who will hire a Reentry Coordinator to help us develop a system that will provide services to inmates after release from incarceration in state prison. The Reentry Coordinator will also oversee the task force procedures and evaluate the County agencies associated with this initiative.
- The Department completed a SAMHSA Grant proposal for $9 million over six years to transform the Children's Mental Health system of care into one that is family-driven, youth-guided and culturally and linguistically appropriate. We have received support from Governor Patterson and NYS Office of Mental Health Commissioner Mike Hogan for our proposal. We should receive notice on this grant some time in the late summer of 2010. Deputy Commissioner Cusano was the Department's lead staff person working on this project.
- The Clinic has obtained a Mental Health Professional Shortage Area (HPSA) designation from the Federal Government. This will expand our ability to hire and retain psychiatrists and psychiatric nurse practitioners.
- The Department's OMH Licensed Clinics were both inspected by the NYS Office of Mental Health in 2009. Both clinics received outstanding reviews. Our Adult Clinic OMH received a 33 month re-certification. The Children's Clinic received a 30 month re-certification. The longest re-certification given by OMH is 36 months.

Goals:

- The department has plans to move to a new location in the summer of 2010. This move will consolidate all of our programs into one location and create a more efficient operating environment.
- Continue to look for grant opportunities for additional funding for programming for the department to expand needed services for the community system of care for mental health, chemical dependency and developmental disabilities.

OFFICE FOR AGING

Accomplishments:

- The Office for Aging served over 200,000 home delivered meals (popularly known as Meals on Wheels) in 2009, nearly 9,000 more meals than the previous year. Over 90% of the seniors receiving home delivered meals reported that the meal service helps them remain living in their home and that they eat more nutritiously because of the program. Volunteers, many of them seniors themselves, contributed nearly 21,000 hours of service in support of the home delivered meals program.
- Seniors in physical decline often have needs that caregivers cannot meet. Last year, the Office for Aging provided seniors with nearly 33,000 hours of in-home care, a 16% increase over the year before. The Office for Aging also supplied 99 seniors with personal emergency response units—safety devices that give caregivers peace of mind when their elderly family members are home alone.

- The New York State Office for Aging awarded the Broome County Office for Aging a Nursing Home Diversion Modernization grant, one of three such grants offered statewide. This demonstration grant is allowing the Office for Aging to provide intensive services to seniors at imminent risk of nursing home placement with the goals of keeping elders in their homes while helping them to avoid relying on Medicaid for care. To date 20 seniors at risk of nursing home placement have received the help they need to remain in their homes.
- The Office for Aging's Information and Assistance unit had over 12,000 contacts with more than 3,400 seniors and caregivers in 2009. Through their intervention, the staff educated clients, clarified issues for seniors and caregivers, made linkages with service providers, helped seniors access financial benefits, and prevented homelessness.
- In 2009, Broome County senior centers served nearly 116,000 meals to approximately 4,000 seniors. Besides meals, senior centers offered a wide array of health, wellness, and educational programs designed to keep people healthy, informed, and integrated in the community. Volunteers continued to make a vital contribution at senior centers by donating over 36,000 hours of service last year.

- When asked what will help them in their caregiving roles, caregivers most often say that they need respite. In 2009, the Yesteryears Social Adult Day Care Program ran at near capacity the whole year and provided caregivers with over 50,000 hours of respite. The Office for Aging also provided over 2,800 hours of in-home and institutional respite, a 63% increase over the previous year.
- The prevalence of diabetes in Broome County's senior population is significantly higher than the national rate. To help combat diabetes, the Office for Aging collaborated with the Southern Tier Diabetes Coalition and CDPHP to provide Mission Meltaway sessions. Mission Meltaway helps people lose weight by teaching them how to establish healthy diet and exercise habits.
- Falling is the leading cause of death and injury among seniors. With funding support from Assemblywoman Donna Lupardo and CDPHP, new balance programs were offered at local senior centers in 2009. Nearly 100 people attended two balance clinics and learned how to reduce their risk of falling.
- To age healthily, seniors need activities that manage their health and wellness and provide meaningful recreational opportunities. In 2009, the Office for Aging provided over 8,500 health, wellness, and recreational activities for older adults. Activities included: exercise programs, chronic disease management classes, painting and quilting classes, singing and instrumental music productions, writing classes, as well as a variety of entertainment presentations.
- The Office for Aging Caregiver Services unit and several community partners worked together to offer Powerful Tools for Caregivers. This is a six-week, evidence-based program that provides strategies to help caregivers lessen their stress and care for themselves.
- With the high costs of food, energy, and medications, it is difficult for low-income seniors to afford home repairs. In 2009, the Office for Aging WRAP program leveraged over $380,000 in energy related repairs and other home improvements for low-income seniors and the disabled. WRAP consumers also received over $160,000 in weatherization and electric reduction measures last year.
- Seniors give back to this community every day. One way they give is by becoming Foster Grandparents. Volunteering in schools and daycare centers, 69 Foster Grandparents gave nearly 61,000 hours of their time in 2009. Children throughout the County benefitted from the grandparents' dedicated caring.
- In 2009, GROW (Gaining Resources for Older Workers) connected 154 older workers with 513 private employers, usually seniors, who needed to hire in-home help in categories such as housekeeping, companion, driving, yard work, and repair/maintenance projects.

- As a special activity for national caregivers month, the Office for Aging collaborated with WSKG to broadcast two live community conversations. Local residents served as members of the on-line panels for each conversation. WSKG interviewed local caregivers and aired parts of those interviews during the month as a way of promoting the community conversations and raising awareness of caregiving issues.
- In 2009, the Health Insurance Information, Counseling and Assistance Program (HIICAP) provided unbiased information and assistance to 965 Broome County residents. Volunteers trained and supported by Action for Older Persons, Inc. (AOP) provided individual counseling and help with Medicare, Medicaid, Medicare Supplements, Medicare Prescription coverage, long term care and other types of insurance. The efforts of the volunteers were supplemented by the work of AOP and Office for Aging staff members.
- Broome Community College students raised over $600 for a flagpole at the Broome West Senior Center. The Department of Public works will erect the flagpole in the spring of 2010. The effort to raise money began when the students learned that the seniors wanted to honor their country by displaying a flag outside the senior center.

- In 2009 the County Executive, with the support of the legislature, offered eligible employees a retirement incentive. In order to further the savings associated with this initiative the County further resolved to reduce its overall workforce by 50% of the number of County employees who retired under the incentive.
- Nineteen (19) DSS employees took advantage of the incentive. This reduction in workforce would have a significant effect on the services that DSS provides to some of the most vulnerable residents of our County.
- After careful analysis, DSS Administration developed a strategy to partner with human service agencies in our community to provide some of the mandated services the County has traditionally provided. The two areas being impacted include Adoption and Foster Home Finding and Adult Protective Undercare Services. Broome County Social Services is partnering with the Children's Home for the Adoption and Foster Home Services and with Catholic Charities of Broome County for the Adult Protective Services. These two projects together eliminate 15 full-time positions at DSS and save the County a half a million dollars over five years.

Program. DSS Commissioner Art Johnson & Deputy County Attorney Howard Schultz, working together with NY State's Medicaid Inspector General, have assured Broome's residents receive Medicaid services in accordance with State requirements. Broome has embraced this State demonstration project, seeking State permission to audit over $50,000,000 in Medicaid claims. Preliminary audit findings exceed $1,000,000. Broome has been recognized by NY State's Medicaid Inspector General as a leader and pioneer in this important project. Broome will continue its vigilance to assure our Medicaid tax dollars are properly spent.

- Child Protective Services received a total of 3605 reports of child abuse and/or maltreatment. This was an increase of 305 reports from 2008 and 829 reports from 2007. The Child Protective Division faced major challenges with increasing numbers of reports. In September we made the commitment to staff CPS with 34 line staff (increased from 27 one year ago). Child Protective Services was able to decrease the amount of overdue safety assessments from 1107(68%) to 79(4.9%) in the course of the year. Sixty day overdue case determinations continue to be significant and it is our goal to reduce them below the state average in 2010.
- DSS in partnership with the Probation Department and the County Attorney's Office was able to reduce its utilization of detention for troubled youth. The decrease in total days, the decrease in average stay and the decrease in number of children placed in DSS custody are all significant improvements from 2008.

A total of 30 children were freed for adoption during the year via a petition by the Department or a surrender taken from a parent.
- The Department began the year with 367 children in foster care placements and ended 2009 with 349 children in care. The trend continues to be children requiring higher levels of care. Our 14-17 age group makes up the highest percentage of children in placement with 29%. Residential Care has risen to its highest rate in the past several years with 83 children at that level on 12/31/09.
- The Services Division was once again selected by OCFS to receive a Portable Technology Project grant and received 26 wireless lap tops that were installed by March 2009.

- 2008 Single Audit of the Department's $104 million in expenditures resulted in no findings for DSS.
- Year-to-Date DSS savings recognized due to American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) is $3,576,933.

- Unaudited results show that Willow Point ended year with a fund balance of $1.8 million. The facility began the year with a negative $4.3 million fund balance.
- Received permission to explore operating a 53 registrant Adult Day Health Care Program for seniors to be located in Binghamton.
- Received a training grant from Central New York Area Health Education Center. This Agency provided training funds from the NYS Departments of Labor and Health at no cost to Broome County. The Agency provided laptop computers and White Board (interactive computer display board) to be used in staff training. Grant money was used to train various employees in job specific areas i.e. computer programs, stress management, medication administration and narcotic reconciliation. They sponsored training for nurses, which lead to nurses being certified as wound care and MDS specialists. Additionally, the agency provided testing through Broome/Tioga Workforce Development to determine employees' further training abilities, which resulted in the Agency sponsoring three individuals to attend Certified Nursing Assistant training. Two of the three obtained certification as CNAs. The Agency also sponsored nationally known speaker Clint Maun and Francis Battisti to make presentations to the entire Willow Point Staff on Long Term Care Customer Service.

- Maintain census at better than 95% for the year. Willow Point ended January with a census of 97%.
- Establish an enhanced dining program on the North Lower Level (this is the Short Stay Unit) and North Two nursing units. The program will provide residents with greater choice in their meal selection at the time of service and creates a less institutional setting for their meal service.
