Revised November 2023*

There are many housing options available to older adults and those with a disability in Broome County. It is important to consider the differences among the various buildings in order to find the best place to meet your needs. In addition, applying at multiple housing facilities is suggested as many of them have waiting lists. Please consider the following information when choosing your future home:

- ❖ Independent Living: This housing option is available to those who require minimal or no extra assistance. At most independent living buildings, supportive services, such as meals or housekeeping are not included in the monthly rental price. However, some independent living housing options do provide various additional services. Some of these buildings have services included in their rent and some have services available for an additional fee. While reading the descriptions for each building, take note of additional services and what they may cost.
- ❖ There are two different types of independent living buildings in Broome County: subsidized and unsubsidized. Subsidized housing options offer financial aid in the form of a subsidy to help provide affordable housing. Unsubsidized senior housing options do not offer financial assistance and tenants pay full rent. Please check with the management at the building of your interest about the type of subsidy available to you. This subsidized type of housing is marked with a * symbol in the index.
- ❖ Enriched Housing Program: This program provides personal and health related services. It provides extra assistance with housekeeping, meals, transportation, and non-medical supportive services. The Enriched Housing program is licensed by the NYS Department of Health and monitored by the state. Several buildings in the area offer this type of program. These are marked with a Δ symbol in the index.
- ❖ For information on other levels of care such as Assisted Living, Adult Care, & Skilled Nursing please contact Office for Aging at (607) 778-2411 or visit our website at nyconnects.ny.gov

This guidebook contains a brief description of apartment options in Broome County for seniors and those with disabilities. Please call individual housing management offices for applications and more information. Those marked with Δ symbol refer to the Enriched Housing Option available at some of the buildings.
