Child Passenger Protection Act “Leandra’s Law” and Ignition Interlock Program

In November 2009, New York State implemented an impaired driving law with two major components:

1. Tougher penalties for driving impaired with children.
2. Required ignition interlock devices for those sentenced with a driving while intoxicated offense (DWI) (Misdemeanor or Felony).

Provisions of the Law

First time offenders driving while intoxicated (DWI) (.08 Blood Alcohol Content or more) or impaired by drugs while a child younger than 16 years old is in the vehicle may be charged with a Class E Felony punishable by up to four years in State Prison. Individuals charged will automatically have their license suspended pending prosecution.

Courts must sentence all drivers convicted of a misdemeanor or felony DWI to install and maintain an ignition interlock device for a least six months on any vehicle owned and operated by such driver.

What is an Ignition Interlock Device?

An Ignition Interlock Device (IID) is a breath analyzer installed into a vehicle to prevent a person from starting the engine, or in certain cases, to continue to operate a motor vehicle after having consumed alcohol. The driver must blow into the device before the vehicle will start. The device records the following:

1. Attempts to start the vehicle.
2. The alcohol level of the individual at the time of starting the vehicle.
3. The alcohol level at random
4. Date and times the vehicle is operated.
5. Attempts to circumvent the device.

When Must the Defendant Comply with the Installation?

The IID must be installed within ten business days after sentencing.

If the court issues a continuation of driving privileges (20 day stay upon sentencing), the defendant may not drive unless an ignition interlock device has been installed in the vehicle.

Is the IID Sentence Condition Required if the Defendant Does Not Own a Vehicle?

Yes. If the defendant does not own a vehicle, he/she is still prohibited from operating a motor vehicle without the IID including motorcycles.

Who is Eligible?

Interlock monitoring is mandated by the sentencing court as a condition of a DWI misdemeanor or felony.

Who Pays for the Device, Installation, and Maintenance?

The defendant pays all related costs unless the court determines that he/she cannot afford to pay for part or all of the related costs. Costs run roughly $3.00/day.

Violations, service calls, and missed appointments are extra.
